

Entrust Instant Financial Issuance is now Visa Ready

What does it mean to be Visa Ready?

The Entrust instant card issuance solution is now recognized as meeting Visa's global standards around security and functionality. Having the Visa Ready seal of approval helps Entrust establish trust with financial institutions, and lets you do so with your cardholders.

Why did Entrust earn the Visa Ready certification?

Entrust is the only provider of instant card issuance to hold this certification because we are the only organization that builds our own instant financial issuance products and solutions, codes our own software, builds our own modules, and manages our own services. Our entire solution is certified as Visa Ready: our supplies, our printers, and our services.
